

STRENGTH. The Fury's super-strong monocoque-reinforced frame design combines the descending capability of a downhill bike with the pedaling efficiency of a cross-country machine

CONTROL. The Fury's optimized pivot positioning and dialed-in geometry give it razor-sharp reflexes and amazing downhill capabilities

VERSATILITY. The Fury not only climbs better than most delicate cross-country bikes, it puts them to shame on the way back down

CLIMB. DESCEND.
REPEAT
AS NEEDED.
