

#207 of 1,500. Owner: Stephen Genova.
Full-time banker.
"I find a nice quiet ride helps me unwind after a tough day at work."

This year, Fat City will make just 1,500 Fat Chance bikes. Each painstakingly designed and crafted by hand. Each signed by the people who made it and then numbered.

It's this attention to detail, this pride in workmanship that sold Stephen Genova, owner of #207, a man single-handedly challenging the stereotype of a boring banker.
